Budget Speech Essay by Sir Ruene Ramghulam

To vote or not to vote that is the question, South African's face a big change as many went to the poll stations to make their mark. Ned bank says "Make things happen" for your country or be it "a friend in uncertain times" by Old Mutual.

Let the joys of National health Insurance wave be welcomed, Housing remains are challenge, mismanagement of public funds, clamping on Forums that deter growth of infrastructure, Eliminate Gender based violence Stricter supervision of tenderpreneurs and please protect whistle blowers. The reductions on taxes and Vat back to 14% will surely assist why encourage an unemployment subsidy- "young age grants" funded by tax payers and illegal water and electricity and free houses yet tax payers suffer explicitly where working 2 jobs raising your tax or every overtime you take on to meet the ever increasing inflation. Unexplainable tariffs on water and electricity bills were pensioners suffer to put food on their table and lacks coping mechanisms. So help me God deliver this service to mankind or do we need a petrol levy to transport this idea.

Let the Republic of South Africa it be safe and create more safe houses for victim and homeless by cleaning up our cities to attract tourists. Why should the locals pay so must to tour their own country? A fancy unemployment speech does not assist the empty stomach but rather boosts the crime to make means. It's a vicious cycle I tell you. A pothole in the common citizen's minds got people getting anxiety and depression just by purchasing groceries leaving alone other personal matters. Are we a Pre Zimbabwe? Or can a speech make the deference we need? I'm advocating for educating the country as former president Nelson Mandela said "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world". Financial literacy is paramount in this fast and furious paced generation with an alcohol based lifestyle growing, lack of exercise, surge in chronic conditions and risky behaviour is an un-smart choice which is consuming the youth and not so youth today. Moreover violence and crime has risen drastically, why don't people calm down and do some yoga and hopefully some right ''numbers'' will count.

I think the number one thing for this speech is your peace or is it a piece, life is short past is a history the future is a mystery and the present is a gift, enjoy it. Let us make this world a better place. I hope this received well as I wait for a water truck. Gosh I just kicked the bucket, I meant the budget.
